Sarah & Tim Gould

Sarah and Tim Gould are proud Tulsans with deep roots in the community and a shared commitment to education, the arts, and organizations that make Tulsa a vibrant place to live, work, and raise a family.

Sarah is President and CEO of Ethos Architects, a Tulsa-based architecture and interior design firm, and serves on the board of the Foundation for Tulsa Schools. A native Tulsan and proud Tulsa Public Schools graduate, Sarah attended Nathan Hale High School, where she was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 2025. Her connection to TPS extends into her professional life. Under Sarah's leadership, Ethos has partnered with Tulsa Public Schools on dozens of projects across the city, including Emerson Montessori and improvements at Will Rogers High School. Throughout her career, Sarah has remained passionate about creating places that strengthen communities and help people learn, connect, and thrive.

Tim has spent more than 30 years in the healthcare industry and today leads an international team of data engineers at Dentsply. A Tulsa native whose career has taken him across the country and around the world, Tim's travels have only strengthened his appreciation for Tulsa and the community he calls home. He is dedicated to his family, friends, and community and shares Sarah's commitment to giving back.

Community involvement is something Sarah and Tim have made a priority together. They previously served as chairs of Discovery Lab's Mad Scientist Ball and Tulsa Ballet's Icons & Idols and have supported numerous organizations throughout Tulsa. They are raising three children and share a belief that strong schools, access to the arts, and an engaged community give young people opportunities to discover their talents and what is possible for their futures.

As chairs of ARTrageous 2027, Sarah and Tim are excited to once again bring the communities of Tulsa together, this time to celebrate creativity and support the Foundation for Tulsa Schools and its work to expand opportunities for students and educators across Tulsa Public Schools.
